

Proclamation

By the Governor of Alabama

WHEREAS, the state of Alabama believes every student should have the full opportunity to succeed in school and be prepared to succeed in life; and

WHEREAS, the state of Alabama is committed to educating students in inclusive schools and classrooms, ones that are welcoming and that are capable of educating all children; and

WHEREAS, the state of Alabama believes in fairness for all students through program application and access; and

WHEREAS, Alabama educators recognize that each child is unique, learns differently, and, therefore, learns better when teaching is responsive to their abilities and interests; and

WHEREAS, Alabama's educators and families work hard to ensure that our schools and classrooms are high performing and inclusive; and

WHEREAS, Alabama's educators and families deserve to celebrate their successes and to reflect on how they might further improve practices that contribute to high performing and inclusive school communities;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Kay Ivey, Governor of Alabama, do hereby proclaim December 3-7, 2018, as in the State of Alabama and encourage schools and classrooms across Alabama to participate in learning and community-building activities in recognition thereof.

Given Under My Hand and the Great Seal of the Office of the Governor at the State Capitol in the City of Montgomery on the 9th day of November 2018.

Kay Ivey
