RE: Flags Lowered for Patriot Day 2022

In accordance with the presidential proclamation, I am directing flags to be displayed at half-staff on Sunday, September 11, 2022 to honor and remember the nearly 3,000 Americans that lost their lives on September 11, 2001.

On the 21st anniversary of one of the most unconscionable tragedies in our nation's history, we pay homage to the remarkable heroism of the first responders, health care workers, service members and all of those, selfless civilians, who leapt into action on that dark day and in the days ahead for their fellow man. These egregious acts of terror were a defining moment for America and will forever be etched into our hearts, our history and our nation's legacy of unifying to overcome the inconceivable. May we always remember and honor those who ran into harm's way to help so many escape, as well as the selfless sacrifice of the extraordinary citizens on Flight 93.

My hope and prayer for our country is that we never forget those who were lost and the sacrifices we made in the days that followed. May God continue to bless those who mourn, those who were injured, our courageous patriots and the United States of America.

The flags should remain lowered at half-staff for the entire day on Sunday, September 11, 2022. The flags will then remain at half-staff until sunset on the day of Queen Elizabeth's interment.
